

My Will Is To Do His Will

Evangelist Bernice Caldwell began singing at the age of five in her father's church. Encouraged by her father and her mother to praise God to the highest, she continued to pursue her calling to praise Him through song. She has been blessed to work with many individuals including family members who have supported her and assisted in cultivating her voice and singing style.

An admirer of Shirley Caesar, Bernice has a similar traditional singing style that has garnered adoration and encouragement from the residents of Carrolton, Georgia. At the age of thirteen, she began her professional singing career with two groups, The Spiritual Gospels and the United Voices of West Georgia College, both originating from Carrolton. She later joined the Army which inspired a spiritual journey during her travel throughout the United States. While stationed in Louisiana, she sang with another group that was also called the Gospels. Although she was the youngest of the group, being a member provided the opportunity for her to learn and grow in her singing career. She later had the opportunity to sing with the Georgia Mass Choir. Since that time, her career has flourished as she continues to establish her solo career.

Her songs on this latest CD, Praise Pleases Him, give merit to how she has lived her life. I've got to Praise the Lord, is an up tempo contemporary song with a "big band" sound. Bernice sings the word to this song with power and confidence: power to overcome any obstacles through faith and confidence that "he is worthy to be praised." The second song, My Will is to Do Your Will is a hymn that reflects a belief that regardless of the circumstance, with His help she will continue to do His will.

While Bernice continues her spiritual journey she firmly believes that she has been blessed to meet so many people who have had such a positive impact on her life. These new songs are also a testament of this belief and a confirmation that while the journey has had its ups and downs, God has kept His word.

Numerous gospel greats have influenced her, and while she has had the opportunity to meet several of them, she takes pride in her chance to meet Evangelist Shirley Caesar and Bobby Jones of the Bobby Jones Show.
